POPULAR FALLACIES.

That every fool can write a farce comedy.
That the best actresses get the most bouquets.
That lightning will ever strike a corner liquor saloon.
That the waste-basket is the enemy of budding literary genius.
That ordinary talent is able to practice the art of bunco-steering.
That the dude is higher up in the scale than any other fancy fool.
That the music of Wagner is more complex than that of Strindberg.
That there is more enjoyment reading Robert Browning than the Zendavesta.
That a dash of poetry in a man's nature prompts him to leave his hair uncut.
That pork and beans is a more resthetic combination than a dude and a monocle.
That the telephone has conferred more benefits upon mankind than the liver pad.—Judge.

RAILROAD SPIKES.

It is said that of the total working expenses of the railroads, over 60 per cent. goes in various ways to the wage earners.

GERMAN railway directors are experimenting with rails made of paper, which are said to be as superior to steel rails as paper car wheels are to those made of iron.

COPENHAGEN has under consideration a plan for a circular street railway to circle the city and connect with all the other lines. The system will be double-tracked the entire length.

A RECENT pamphlet on the railways of London states that there are 256 railway stations within a six mile radius of St. Paul's cathedral and 391 within a twelve mile radius of the same center.

A LOCOMOTIVE drawing four passenger coaches has recently done a mile in thirty-nine and one-fourth seconds on the Reading road, which would come very near to one hundred miles an hour if maintained.

THE PLAGUE OF AFRICA.

Terrible Devastation Effected Through the Alighting of a Cloud of Locusts.

The awful cloud, black in its center on account of the density, gray toward its borders, and scintillating on the side where the sun's rays fell, was advancing straight toward the oasis. In another moment I guessed the terrible reality, says Hilarion Michel, in the Chantiquan. It was an invasion of locusts bringing ravage and famine. Noise is the only antidote for this evil, the purpose being to frighten the locusts. A frightful and indescribable tumult now pervaded the city. It was a terrible confusion of commotion caused by the screams of men, women and children, and the clashing of pieces of iron and the firing of guns. From our standpoint we could witness part of the scene. The people were in their gardens, gathered around the palm trees, and no one was to be seen idle. The men and boys, each with a tin pot hanging upon his back, climbed the palms with astonishing rapidity and set upon the top branches. But vainly did they exhaust their lung force and the energy of their arms; the awful, irreparable disaster fell upon the city; it was ruin for three-quarters of the population and a subsequent famine for all. During eight hours locusts rained upon the palms and upon all that was green. The trees were loaded with swarms of them, the soil was covered, and even in the streets the pedestrians could scarcely avoid crushing some at every step. Evening came, enveloped in a deep gloom of woe, and drove home the distressed and despondent people. The sun rose with bright, sparkling rays, showing the inhabitants the extent of their misfortune. The first sight was the fringed borders, raised their points like spindles; the green dates, whose stalks had been devoured, were spread over the ground; the soil, which was previously covered with lucina and garden vegetables, was now bare as a trodden road; all verdure not too tough for the teeth of the insect had been annihilated. The desolation was complete and famine certain, for the products of the soil are the principal resource of those little clusters of life lost in the depths of the desert.

A FAMOUS ONYX STONE.

The American syndicate Arranging to send it to the World's Fair.

Some time last month these dispatches told of the fact that an effort would be made to exhibit at the world's fair the famous onyx stone found in one of the old mines of Onyx mountain in Mexico. The concessions granted by the government to the party of American capitalists included all mineral land in the mountain, and this stone, which has been left where it was found several years ago, is now the property of the syndicate. They have made arrangements for shipping it to Chicago some time this fall. The stone is oblong in shape, being seven by five by three feet in diameter and is very beautiful. It is carved with hieroglyphics and is evidently a memorial or sacrificial stone, for the workmanship indicates that it was done by the best artists of the time when it was quarried out. On the top is the figure of a man in his relief surrounded by scroll work and hieroglyphics, and at the feet of this figure lie several figures of nude children. The figure of the man is life size and the face is most exquisitely carved, while the upper right corner is the figure of a blazing sun. The man has a child in one hand and he holds a knife in the other and he looks toward the sun. Only two of the sides are finished. These are decorated with scroll work in the shape of vines which twine around columns carved in relief in the onyx. The veining of the stone is of four colors and runs in layers horizontally, so that the top carving is in the nature of cameo work, while the sides are crossed with veining. At the upper end is an elevated place, while just above it are depressions, as if made to fit the head and neck of a person lying on the stone, while the figure of the man is in such a position that the victim would be compelled to lie on the carved surface, and consequently it is supposed by some to be a memorial stone.

Across the Deep to the Far West.

On steamboats, cars and stage coaches, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is carried as the most important item in the materia medica of the traveling public. It deprives vitiated, brackish water of its hurtful properties and exorable flavor, counteracts the pernicious effects upon the stomach of bad or indigestible food, remedies cramps, heartburn and wind upon the stomach. It is a fine defense against malarial disorders, nullifies the effect of excessive heat, cold and damp, relieves sick headaches, and is an incomparable cure for costiveness and biliousness. The fatigue of travel often tells most disastrously upon invalids and convalescents occasionally to such an extent as to jeopardize life. Persons in feeble health, apprehensive of bad effects from travel, will, if provided with the Bitters, be far less likely to have their fears realized.

The Chances of a Number of Presidential Aspirants.

Cleveland and Hill Neck and Neck — Boies a Possible Third, and a Dark Horse Tearing Down the Track.

The Political Cauldron.

CHICAGO—The Democratic national convention, it is expected will get to actual work in shorter time than was the case at Minneapolis.

Word was received this afternoon that the threatened Louisiana contest had been amicably arranged.

Over the New York delegation considerable fuss is expected.

Hon. William English of Indiana says he thinks Cleveland splits nearly even on the delegation in that state.

If Illinois presents Palmer, Indiana will, of course present Boies, and there Cleveland, Hill, possibly Carlisle and Gorman.

L. M. Martin, one of the Boies men, said today that he never placed the strength of Boies below sixty, and it might go to eighty.

Hon. Edward Curtis, of California, said this evening that the California delegation will vote unanimously for Cleveland.

Mr. Shaver, of Des Moines, said today regarding Boies reported strength at the silver states, that Boies would get the silver states, not because he is in accord with the radical ideas which prevail there on the silver question, but because he is a western man.

Col. J. G. Prather, national committeeman, is the only prominent Missourian around today. "My sympathies are with Cleveland," said he "and I entertain no doubt that he will be nominated." Certainly he will get the vote of Missouri.

In the Iowa headquarters this morning it was openly predicted that quite half the Missouri delegation would come to Boies if Cleveland did not get the nomination on the first two or three ballots.

The Silver Question.

NEW YORK—The Post's London special says: The silver question in America is much discussed here. The leading men think the result may be a pure silver standard. In anticipation of this, a strong bank return was made this week, the increase being nearly $1,000,000 reserve, mostly return circulation. Market resources increased almost double this amount. There is German inquiry for gold.

Stood the Test.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS have successfully stood the test of over thirty years' use by the public; their virtues have never been equalled by the unscrupulous imitators who have sought to trade upon the reputation of ALLCOCK'S by making plasters with holes in them, and claiming them to be "just as good as ALLCOCK'S."

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS stand to-day indorsed by not only the highest medical authorities, but millions of grateful patients who have proved their efficacy as a household remedy.

Funeral of Thos Dunbar.

The remains of Mr. Thos. Dunbar were brought up this morning from Tucson and his funeral took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Undertaking Parlors of C. B. Tarbell, his remains being accompanied to the cemetery by a host of his numerous friends. To his family and relatives the PROSPECTOR joins with the public in sincere sympathy.

"Mr. Dunbar was one of the prominent members of the House in the Sixteenth Legislature and was also a member of the previous legislature, and was the author of an excellent bill to protect the interests of the stockmen in the Territory, and was regarded as authority on live stock affairs, in which business he was largely interested. He died from the effects of a stroke in the ear which finally affected the brain. Mr. Dunbar was about 45 years of age, was born in Calais, Maine, of Scotch Irish parents, and had been in the southwestern country about twenty years. He leaves a family of a wife and five sons to mourn his unexpected death."—Herald.

A Chance to Make Money.

I have berries, grapes and peaches a year old, fresh as when picked. I use the California Gold Process; do not heat or seal the fruit, just put it up in lead, keeps perfectly fresh and costs almost nothing; can put up a bushel in ten minutes. Last week I sold directions to over 100 families; anyone will pay a dollar for directions when they see the beautiful samples of fruit. As there are many people poor like myself, I consider it my duty to give my experience to such, and feel confident anyone can make one or two hundred dollars around home in a few days. I will mail sample of fruit and complete directions, to any of your readers, for 18 two cent stamps, which is only the actual cost of the sample, postage, etc., to me. I ask nothing for the directions. Mrs. Wm. Griffith, New Concord, Ohio

Death-Dealing Cyclones in Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Over One Hundred Killed and Wounded—Death of a Bandit.

Awful Destruction.

MANKATO, MINN.—One of the worst disasters that ever visited southern Minnesota occurred late yesterday afternoon. A funnel shaped tornado swept over the land and laid waste scores of happy homes, and sent forty or fifty souls into eternity. The extent to which the country is devastated is greater than ever before known in the history of the state. Starting near Jackson, on the Southern Minnesota road, the cyclone swept eastward four miles south of Minnesota Lake; then took a broad circle to the south, passed south of Wells two miles to North Sherburne, where it struck a district school house in which were the teacher and seventeen scholars. The building was demolished. Three of the children were killed and thirteen severely injured. It is impossible to get a list of the killed and wounded. Probably not less than 100 are injured, mostly in the country, distant from medical aid. All along the Milwaukee road, from Jackson to Minnesota lake, the scene is one of devastation. Not every house was taken, but so many were destroyed that the scene is pitiful. It is one of the richest sections of the state. The wires are all down. Telegraph poles and trees were everywhere blown over. Trains on all other roads are greatly delayed.

Washouts in Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE — Dispatches to the Evening Wisconsin show that a cloud-burst in the western part of the state last night did great damage. At Bos-cobel five bridges were carried away, the water rising eleven feet in the river in a few minutes.
